Application for Global Marketing Intern - Content & Campaign Management – starting from January 1st, 2026

Dear Recruiting Team,

I am currently in the first semester of my Master's in International Business at WHU – Otto Beisheim School of Management. I would like to apply for the Global Marketing Intern - Content & Campaign Management at DHL and am available from Jan 2026 through August 2026.

I recently attended a guest lecture by Dr. Dirk Brauman, EVP of Corporate Accounting, Reporting & Controlling at Deutsche Post DHL Group, in which he touched on sustainability initiatives at DHL and the vital role of consultants in supporting these goals, which sparked my interest in DHL's impressive global logistics network. I am drawn to this opportunity to learn directly from seasoned professionals and gain insights into how bigger brands like DHL not only sell, but stick across countries, cultures, and contexts?

At Henkel, I had the opportunity to work on a global rebranding and product relaunch project. This experience gave me firsthand exposure to the interplay between brand strategy, creative development, and international market execution. I participated in strategy discussions, contributed ideas for activation concepts, and helped evaluate agency proposals with a critical lens. Beyond execution, I began to understand the "why" behind branding decisions—how each asset, whether a video or a product page, reflects a deeper narrative.

Prior to Henkel, I worked as a Sales Team Lead at Pickyourtrail, where I led a team of six and consistently achieved sales targets while enhancing our pitch strategies based on destination trends and client behavior insights. This role developed my customer-centric thinking and showed me how performance data and brand communication must go hand-in-hand to drive conversion. This sharpened my ability to view marketing not just as communication, but as an evolving conversation between brand and consumer, something I believe is core to DHL's customer-first approach.

I'm eager to bring a blend of creativity, analytical thinking, and global perspective to DHL's marketing team. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to learn from and contribute to a brand that continues to connect people and possibilities worldwide.

Thank you very much for considering my application. I am excited about the opportunity to learn from the team at DHL Global Forwarding, and I look forward to discussing my fit for the program in further detail.

Sincerely,
Shruthi Sankaranarayanan
