Application for Internship in Global Marketing Toilet Care – starting from May 1st, 2025

Dear Recruiting team,

I am currently in the first semester of my Master's in International Business at WHU – Otto Beisheim School of Management. I would like to apply for the Internship in Global Marketing Toilet Care at Henkel and am available from May through July 2025.

During my studies at WHU, I had the opportunity to attend a guest lecture by Katharina Roscher, Corporate Director of Brand Tech & Ecosystems at Henkel. She shared detailed insights into the marketing strategies and rebranding process of the Schwarzkopf website. This lecture sparked a deep curiosity and interest in how brand perception and product value play a critical role in determining a company's success. The opportunity to learn directly from experienced professionals at Henkel excites me, especially in understanding how multiple brands are effectively managed within a large FMCG organization. This aligns with my aspiration to deepen my knowledge of strategic branding and marketing in a dynamic and global setting.

My coursework in Strategic Marketing at WHU further strengthened my interest in branding. Through case studies on brands like Stanley, Coca-Cola, and Nike, I gained an appreciation for how strategic choices in branding can shape an organization's trajectory. I am particularly drawn to the creative, structured, and forward-thinking processes that underpin effective brand management. My academic experience, professional background, and curiosity have helped me develop a unique perspective on tackling marketing challenges. I am excited to apply these skills and learn more about brand management in a real-world setting.

In my previous role as Sales Team Lead at Pickyourtrail, I successfully managed a €2.6M annual revenue target and consistently achieved my goals by leveraging data-driven insights and identifying growth opportunities. Each month, I analyzed performance data and client conversion metrics to identify high-performing destinations, which enabled me to focus efforts on markets with the greatest potential. I developed innovative strategies to increase market share and improve customer satisfaction by adapting sales pitches to align with client preferences and seasonal trends.

My psychology background also played a key role in my sales success, enabling me to understand client needs deeply and tailor my communication to foster trust and long-term relationships. This combination of analytical skills and customer-centric thinking positions me uniquely to address marketing challenges and create impactful brand strategies. I believe these skills will be invaluable in contributing to the success of Henkel's marketing initiatives.

Henkel's Global Marketing Internship offers an exceptional opportunity to acquire the practical skills that I require to start my marketing and brand management career- an experience no classroom can replicate. I am confident that my curiosity, commitment to learning, and persistence in facing challenges will help me excel in this internship and make a meaningful contribution.

Thank you for considering my application. I am excited about the opportunity to learn from the team at Henkel, and I look forward to discussing my fit for the program in further detail.

Sincerely,
Shruthi Sankaranarayanan
